Important Note:

Depending on your vehicle model, installation of the Monster® SIRIUS Car Antenna may require special tools, knowledge, and possible vehicle disassembly. To ensure a clean, seamless install Monster recommends installation be performed by a professional installer.

HOOK-UP INSTRUCTIONS

Step 1

Use the included alcohol swab to clean the surface area of your vehicle where you intend to mount your Monster® SIRIUS Car Antenna and place the antenna and rubber tailpiece at the selected location. Do not adhere rubber tailpiece yet (see step 4). The magnets will attach to the surface. Optimal mounting should be along the center line of your vehicle's roof (or trunk for convertibles), 6 1/2" (165mm) from your rear window. If your vehicle has a roof rack or "skid ribs", you may need to mount the antenna off-center far from barriers that could obstruct reception.

Step 2

Guide the cable through the bottom of the rubber tailpiece (included) but do not adhere yet. Route the cable along the rear window underneath the rubber molding (fig.1), down to the lowest point of a plastic knife or other blunt object to lift the rubber molding and tuck the cable underneath. For vehicles without accessible rubber molding, additional cable routing options are illustrated below.

Step 3

Route the cable through the trunk and into the vehicle's interior to your single-input SIRIUS Head Unit or Plug & Play tuner location. For a cleaner installation, route the cable underneath your vehicle's carpet or rubber gasket seal along the interior of your vehicle's door. Insert the antenna's nickel-plated connection end into the port on your head unit (Sirius Satellite Radio or Plug & Play tuner) labeled "ANT" or "SAT".

Step 4

Once you are satisfied with the antenna location, secure the rubber tailpiece (included) in place by removing the protective backing on one side of the included adhesive strip and press it firmly along the bottom of the tailpiece, over the cable guide. Remove the protective backing on the adhesive and firmly place this onto your vehicle's surface. Press down for 30 seconds.

Step 5

Installation complete! Now you can enjoy the 120+ channels of music, sports, news and entertainment your new Monster SIRIUS Car Antenna helps to provide.
